Quote from the Holy Fathers: A brother asked Abba Poimen: “What does it mean for one to get angry at his brother without a cause?” The Elder replied to him: “If you get angry over any ill-treatment that you suffer from your brother, you are angry without a cause; and even if he gouges out your right eye or cuts off your right hand, you should not be angry with him. If he separates you from God, only then should you be angry.”
